

AK MULFORD

Welcome to Prickle Island Zoo!

I'm so excited to share with you my new pen name! These romcoms are light fun reads with the same queer and neurospicy character representation you're familiar with in my Fantasy novels.

This is also a way for me to share with you all the fun stories from my time as an animal rescuer! This free short story 'Winging It' is dedicated to the actual one-winged penguin who made me take my shirt off in the freezing cold to rescue him from his midnight zoo escapades!

Click the button below to get your free copy of this short story - please note that this will also opt you in to receive newsletters for this pen name which, just like this one, won't be more than once a month.

Want an ARC featuring more than two of each animal?

If you're interested in receiving an Advanced Reader Copy of Book 1 in my new RomCom series then all you need to do is press the button below! There will be another reminder along with the cover reveal before ARCs close on February 13th.
